The Indiana Supreme Court Affirms the Law Closing the Saloons at 11 O'clock.

The Session of the Illinois Legislature Unsuccessful—Wright, the Train Robber, Talks.

HOLDS IT GOOD.

The Indiana Supreme Court Affirms the 11 O'clock Law.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—This afternoon the supreme court affirmed the validity of the law requiring saloons to be closed from 11 p. m. to 5 a. m. The decision was unanimous.

THEY FOUGHT.

A Burglar Killed in Indiana.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—A special from Noblesville, Ind., says: "At Fishersburg last night six burglars entered Boden Lamer's dry goods store, in which two men, Stamford and McCarthy, were sleeping. A fight with revolvers followed, resulting in the death of one of the burglars. His dead body was carried off by his companions."

Wright, the Robber.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 12.—The preliminary examination of Wm. Wright, the alleged express robber, has been postponed until Friday. Webster, the baggage master, telegraphed from New Albany that he is unable to make the trip now. Wright says he left his home the day before the robbery, arrived at Terre Haute that afternoon and went two miles in the country to his uncle's.

Middleton Demands Help.

B., have been ordered out.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 12.—Contrary to general expectation, to-day's joint session of both houses was uneventful. On the roll call 145 representatives and 50 senators answered, but no vote was cast for United States senator and the session adjourned.

Catholic Knights.

The Fire Record.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. LONDON, May 12.—An extensive fire raged all last night at Chatham. Several buildings were destroyed, among them Barnard's Music hall, Mid Kent club house, Ball's inn and a large printing works. Loss, $200,000.

Appointments.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, May 12.—The president to-day appointed the following presidential postmasters: Samuel A. Ashe, Raleigh, N. C.; James F. Vogt, Lemars, Iowa; John McWilliams, Coatsville, Pa.

THE MARKETS.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. CHICAGO, May 12.—Wheat opened steady, but a large selling movement began under which the market broke off 1/4c. June, 90 1/2. ### In Deep Water.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. HALIFAX, May 11.—The steamer Helvetia, with a general cargo, which started from Antwerp, April 23, for Montreal, sank off Scattered cape Saturday. A rather remarkable coincidence is that Captain Schoonhoven, who commanded the Daniel Steinmann, was also in command of the Helvetia and it was the first passage across the Atlantic he made since the wreck of the Steinmann. The Helvetia has been knocking about in the ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence seven or eight days. Her bows were stove in and she was otherwise damaged by ice. She was leaking badly. On Friday, Captain Schoonhoven left Cape Ray and bore up for Sidney, having all he could do to keep the ship afloat. Saturday a heavy sea sprang up and he hailed the steamer Acadia, which took the Helvetia in tow and headed for Louisburg, and had not gone far before Captain Schoonhoven signalled that he was sinking. The passengers and crew had hardly got clear before the Helvetia careered and sunk. The Acadia took the survivors to Port Hawksburg. The Helvetia carried a cargo valued at $400,000 and sank in deep waters.

Mr. Munderloh has received further particulars concerning the loss of the steamer Helvetia, of the White Cross line. She was badly tilted by an encounter with ice on Thursday last and telegraphed her condition. She was lost sight of until yesterday, when it was learned that she had gone down bow first off Scattered island on Friday in deep water. She at first tried to make Sydney, C. B., and found that harbor packed with ice. She then tried to follow the German steamship Kohlenwider, but lost the latter in a fog. To make matters worse the sails that Captain Schoonhoven had stretched over the vessel's bows were torn away in a second encounter with ice. Still he fought against the foe and wind and had good luck until he met the steamer Acadia, by which time he had stretched more canvas over the extensive hole. The Acadia took the Helvetia in tow and tried to make the port Hawksburg. The Helvetia then had 16 feet of water. The cargo was thrown overboard and the men worked hard to keep the vessel afloat. At last with 19 feet of water in the vessel the captain abandoned her. The cargo was valued at $400,000.

Church Congress.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. HARTFORD, Conn., May 11.—A large and interested audience filled Allyn hall this evening at the opening of the church congress. Prominent clergymen and laymen were present from different parts of the country. Rev. Dr. Anderson, of Waterbury, Conn., read an historical account of the congress of the churches. After singing another hymn Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby, of New York, opened the discussion on the relations of a divided christianity to aggressive christianity.

TROUBLE ON THE WABASH.

The Workmen Rule With a High Hand—Master Mechanic Barnes Tenders his Resignation.

Since the success of the recent strike on the Wabash road, the employees have had things their own way and dictated terms even to General Manager Talmage, ignoring the master mechanics and foremen entirely. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat prints a lengthy interview with General Master Mechanic Johann and General Manager Talmage, in the course of which they deprecate the present state of affairs, saying practically that "the men run the road. We are powerless." The same paper says that Master Mechanic Barnes, of this city, and the master mechanics elsewhere have tendered their resignations, but the management refuse to accept or consider them. Committees from all the labor assemblies were in consultation with General Master Mechanic Johann, at Springfield yesterday and to-day and unless they can promise that the men will cease some of their arbitrary methods the management of the road will cut the working force of the shops to a point practically closing the works. The result of the conference with Mr. Johann is anxiously awaited, and the Fort Wayne representatives come home to-night. This information, coming from St. Louis, can scarcely be doubted, and is very sensational. One source of complaint is that blacksmith helpers will not light a fire in any shop before working hours. This leaves blacksmiths idle for an hour, not to mention the effect on other men.

REITERATES IT.

General Komaroff Gives Details of the Kushk River Battle and Its Incidents.

The Division Vote on the Government Credit Awaited With Great Anxiety.

Sir Peter Lumsden and His Staff En Route to London—Other Gossip from Abroad.

THE SAME STORY.

General Komaroff Details the Trouble.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.—The official Messenger publishes a lengthy dispatch from Gen. Komaroff in which he explains more fully his actions, and gives more details of the incidents, which led to battle between Russians and Afghans on the Kushk river. He reiterates everything he said in former dispatches regarding the unexpected progressive movements of the Afghans, and claiming that the latter were the aggressors.

COMING HOME.

LONDON, May 12.—Advice from Tirpitz, of May 9, says: "Sir Peter Lumsden, Colonel Stewart and Mr. Harrow start for home to-morrow, in accordance with the order of the government. No orders were given for the disposal of the British Afghan boundary commission."

THE DIVISION TO-NIGHT.

LONDON, May 13.—After the government explanation in the house of commons yesterday, the opposition was half inclined to withdraw Lord George Hamilton's motion. The members showed far more anxiety about the result of to-night's division, which is certain to be very close. Grave doubts are expressed as to whether the government will adhere to decision to resign if defeated, and the result will depend on the attitude of the Parnellites.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.—Advices through Vienna report that quantities of gun powder and dynamite are being stored at several of the stations. The work continues on the Cronstadt fleet.

LONDON, May 11.—Lorn Tennyson is writing a historical drama, sequel to Becket. He is also collecting his detached poems which will be issued with new lyrics.

Mr. Stephenson, the dramatic author is dangerously ill.

Mr. Fergus (Hugh Conway), author of "Called Back," is dying of typhoid fever at Moulou.

In the course of a debate in the house of commons, McHenry, chaplain, a conservative, charged that the expenditure of so much blood and treasure and the ruin that had been caused in the Sudan were due to the efforts to save the seats of an imbecile ministry.

Lord Randolph Churchill, conservative, admitted that the meaning of the amendment was to enable the ministers to quit their states with grace and dignity.

Gladstone in reply to Sir Stafford Northcote in parliament to-day said that Sir Stafford repudiated the grounds of the motion which had been proposed and approved by his supporters. The opposition had pressed the motion without waiting for the promised papers and made up for their deficiency of knowledge by a variety of baseless suppositions.

When the papers were presented it might appear that Sir Peter Lumsden had returned in full conformity with the government's policy, and that the frontier had been secured through friendly relations between Lord Dufferin and the ameer. It might also be found that when the government took a gloomy view of their position they were doubtful of gaining the objects they were contending for and that his more cheerful speech on the following Monday was made when those objects had been gained. It was not without deep pain and regret that he had seen a change in the attitude of the opposition as soon as a blessed prospect of peace appeared and when it was found that a war had been averted, which would have been a calamity to England, Russia, civilized mankind and the whole world. (Loud and prolonged cheers.) The division was read the second time.

The house of commons ordered the redistribution of seats bill to a third reading—116 to 33.

DUNGLA, May 11.—It is reported that Osman Digna, with a few followers, arrived at Berber, and that Emir Berber has gone to Khartoum to solicit reinforcements to oppose the British advancing from Suakin.

PANAMA, May 11.—Five hundred men arrived from Buena Ventura yesterday and 300 more are on the way. The Colombian guard which fought Prestan at Colon, have also arrived here with about 100 prisoners, who were falsely reported as deserting. Prestan is besieging Carthagena.

Resisting.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SALT LAKE, May 11.—A letter has been received to-night from Oxford, Idaho, which says that the greatest excitement prevails at Bear Lake. On the 5th, warrants were placed in the hands of three deputy marshals for the arrest of eight polygamists at and around Paris. Nothing was heard from the matter here until this morning when a telegraph message announced the fact that the polygamists were all corralled in the church at Paris under the protection of an armed guard of brethren on the outside. The deputy marshals who attempted to make the arrests were marched out of Paris by an armed mob, who threatened that they would kill anyone who attempted to serve a warrant. The marshal upon the receipt of this news at once telegraphed Superintendent Byteler at Pocatello and chartered a special train to convey himself and posse to Montpelier, from which point they will reach Paris about 5 p. m. to-day.

A Victim.

MEMPHIS, May 11.—Mrs. J. J. Stenreide, the fugitive from husband, home and children, has returned from her trip abroad. Dr. Stenreide was seen this morning and when questioned concerning his wife, said: "All that I have to say to you is that she is in good company, in a safe place. My wife tells me she has been the victim of designing people, and I believe it, newspaper gossip, notwithstanding."

Refuted the Application.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. LEXINGTON, May 11.—Since it became known that Hon. James Blackburn will not be appointed collector of the Seventh district of Kentucky, General James F. Robinson, the former applicant, has refuted his application. He is an old time Democrat and was a Union soldier.

Punctured With Shot.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SELMA, Ala., May 11.—Yesterday in the woods near Dixie station on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad, thirty miles above here, the body of Scipio Atchinson, colored, was found riddled with buckshot. Last week Atchinson's son James outraged a white woman near the same place. James was pursued by white men who failed to find him. Scipio was terribly enraged at the white men and threatened to kill them. An Friday last he went to the houses of some of the white people and said: "This is your day but to-morrow is mine. I will get your scalps." These threats are believed to be the cause of his death. The son will be lynched if caught.

Wholesale Murder.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SAVANNAH, Ga., May 11.—Meagre details have been received here of the killing of five negroes in a dispute over a game of cards at Papot's mill, about forty miles south of this city. The country is being scourged by a posse in search of the murderers, two of whom have been arrested. Threats of lynching are made.

Dramatic Fund.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. NEW YORK, May 11.—At the annual election of the American Dramatic fund to-day, S. L. M. Barlow was elected president and R. B. Roosevelt, W. R. Travers, Nathan Seely, S. H. Hurd and John Gilbert made up the board of trustees. William Davidson, Theodore Moss, J. H. Stoddard, W. J. Florence, William Warren, C. W. Conkling, L. H. Rogers and J. H. McKicker are among the directors. George Breckin is secretary and Dr. H. E. Quakerbloss remains honorary physician.

To lose a dear friend is a sorrow without consolation. The blameless life, the ardent tenderness, the pious simplicity, the modest resignation, the patient sickness, and the quiet death, are remembered only to add value to the loss, to aggravate regret for what cannot be amended, to deepen sorrow for what cannot be recalled.

Snatch thieves are said to have taken $100 from Vandermark's shoe store. The officers are silent.

AWFUL CRIMES.

Five Negro Gamblers Killed in a Fight and as Many More Badly Wounded.

An Ohio Man Shoots His Wife Through the Head and Then Kills Himself.

Chicago Italians Confess to the Murder of Their Companion, Caruso, for $400.

A BAD HUSBAND.

He Shoots His Wife and Kills Himself.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, May 12.—John Nenghbor, a young man who has been living in this city, went yesterday evening to the vicinity of his wife's mother's house, four miles north of this city. Taking a place behind a tree, he waited the coming of his wife who was driving cows home. Confronting her, he asked her to return to his home and live with him. She refused whereupon he drew a revolver and saying: "Then we die together," fired. She fell with an ugly wound in her head. He then shot himself. A short time after the woman revived sufficiently to reach home, where she told the story. Nenghbor died in an hour. His wife is alive, with some hope of recovery.

A TERRIBLE FIGHT.

Five Negro Gamblers Killed in a Quarrel.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. SAVANNAH, Ga., May 12.—Waltherville, a small hamlet thirty-seven and a half miles from this city on the Savannah, Florida and Western railway, was Monday the scene of a quadruple tragedy among a party of negro gamblers. One accused another of cheating. As he arose to draw a knife the alleged sharper drew a revolver and killed him. A general fight between the friends of the two men followed. The friends of the dead man arose to avenge his murder, while those of the slayer rallied to his defense. Each side was well armed. Five were killed outright and four or five badly wounded.

The Trunk Murder.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. CHICAGO, May 12.—Various statements are printed here giving the outline of alleged confessions by Augustine Gilardi, one of the supposed murderers of Caruso. The central detective association says, however, that while Gilardi may have made some damaging admissions, he has denied having had any direct agency in the killing.

THEY CONFESS.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The three Italians arrested here for participation in the murder of Caruso, practically confessed this afternoon. They in a measure cleared Gilardi, who was arrested in New York. They state he witnessed the deed, however, and demanded a share of the money taken from Caruso as the price of his keeping quiet and then aided them in shipping the body to Pittsburg. The detectives declare the confession is sufficient to cause the hanging of all three. The killing was perpetrated solely to obtain $300 or $400 Caruso had.

The Sudan War.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. CAIRO, May 12.—When the British withdrew from Sudan 12,000 Egyptian troops will be added to the Egyptian army already there. It is reported that two-thirds of the Berber desire peace.

General Grant.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. NEW YORK, May 12.—General Grant passed the night quietly. He awoke at intervals and slept until late this morning. His condition is unchanged.

Insolvent.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. TURK HATTE, Ind., May 11.—The evening Gazette says: "The United Order of Foresters has been declared insolvent. The membership has been dwindling for some time, and the liabilities have accumulated so fast that these steps became necessary. Charles Bliss, of New York, made application to Judge Davis, who granted it and appointed J. E. Somes, of this city, receiver. Mr. Somes was formerly grand treasurer. The liabilities are about $100,000, including from fifteen to twenty death losses, aggregating $37,000. The assets are very small."

THE CIRCUS.

The J. B. Doris Circus Shows Its Attractions in the City—Gossip of the Ring.

The John B. Doris circus and menagerie came in from Huntington this morning and pitched tents on the flat just east of north Clinton street. At 10:30 the street parade occurred, and thousands viewed the pageant, which was novel and attractive. Women, children and duds thronged the sidewalks, windows and streets along the line of march, and grew gleeful at the antics of two ponies on a wagon, extolled the beauty of the blonde goddess of liberty and shuddered at the lion and snake. The great attraction of the show is Kraso, the missing link between mankind and the monkey. This is not a flattering suggestion, but it is circus and we have to meekly bow. The characteristics of the phenomena are absence of cartilage in nose and ears, the hands are peculiarly adapted for climbing trees, the peculiarity is that the phalanges can be flexed one on the other and this power cannot even be cultivated by the human race. The prominence of the spinous processes of the cervical vertebrae is also an indication. There are also thirteen dorsal vertebrae and thirteen pairs of ribs, the human race having but twelve. The cheek pouches are also an indication of a different race. The course of the hairs on the body does not conform to that of mankind. The conformation of the head is entirely different, not even corresponding to that of the Indian nor to the African. Quite a number of physicians examined the Kraso but cannot solve its origin.

Lawrence Barrett.

The Toledo Review says: "The Lawrence Barrett company were in the city yesterday, en route for Flint, Mich. Louis James and wife, Theodore Bromley and J. L. Finney stopped at the Boddy, while several other members were at the Hotel Union. Jack Sturgeon, an old Toledo boy, was entertained by his friend Bert Cole. After playing in Flint the company will go to Canada, to finish its season of forty-two weeks. It is presumed that Mr. Barrett is in the dominion now, and he won't hurt to report a pleasant chat a member of the Saxtons staff had with the tragedian on the Temple stage last Saturday evening. Mr. Barrett was considerably amused by the publication of an item saying his real name was Braunigan, and that he was formerly a waiter and bar tender. "My name is Barrett," remarked the actor. "It always was and always will be. If I had changed my name it is hardly possible that I would have selected that of 'Barrett.' I am well along in years, now, and the one thing I hold dear is my name. It is all I can leave behind me, therefore the newspaper gossip is annoying. I never was a waiter in a restaurant nor did I tend bar, and I would not deny either if I had. I am a printer by trade, and set type in Detroit and elsewhere. That was my business before I adopted the stage. I only speak of these matters in kindness," said Mr. Barrett as he sat smoking during the second act. The newspaper man wanted him The Sentinel would give the matter consideration.

Northern Indiana Ministerial Association.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Northern Indiana Christian Ministerial association convened at Huntington to-day and will continue until Thursday evening. A large attendance of the elders and lay members of the church from abroad are expected and a very interesting session is promised. The program to-day includes organization, an address by President L. L. Carpenter, and a paper on "Wonders of the Bible," by Rev. E. L. Frazier, of Kokomo. Tomorrow Rev. O. P. Slade, of this city, will address the assembly on "God's Gifts for Perfecting the Saints."

Dr. Elder Capitulates.

Dr. E. S. Elder, late secretary of the State Board of Health, has given up all claim to the position and turned over the accessories of the office to his successor, Dr. Metcalf. He says that his attorneys had advised him to test the matter in the courts, but he had decided not to do it, as the position was not nearly so remunerative as his general practice, which it seriously interfered with. There was little to be gained by making a fight, and besides he did not desire to hamper or impair the efficiency of the board in any way, and long-continued litigation would necessarily result in this.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana Uniforms.

The conductors, baggage men and brakemen of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad, to whom was left the choosing of the uniforms to be worn by the railroad employees, have chosen a blue sack coat with nickel buttons and pants to correspond. The distinguished marks between the different kinds of employees are the badges on the caps. The company will purchase the cloth for the men, and the men choose their own tailors. The new uniforms will not be donned till warmer weather.

On the first of June the subscription price of the Gazette will be reduced to the small sum of ten cents per week. It being the only morning paper in Fort Wayne that gives the news by telegraph, the price will be extremely low. The Sentinel and Gazette, as members of the Associated Press, pay two hundred and four dollars per month for telegraph alone. Add to this the expense of composition, etc., the telegraph news that appears in The Sentinel and Gazette amounts to about five hundred dollars per month. It is a very expensive luxury but a paper appears very stale without telegraph.

Rev. M. E. Beall arrived yesterday via the Wabash from Saitillo, Mexico, bringing with him his little son. His wife's death, which was mentioned in these columns, was soon followed by the death of his baby boy. His errand is now to place his child with his people, when he will return to his labors as a missionary. The remains of his wife and child will probably be brought here at some future time to be interred at Decatur, the former home of Mrs. Beall. Mr. Beall says the thermometer registered at about 120 degrees in Mexico the first of last week.

It is stated that the Pennsylvania people are quietly manipulating matters to secure control of the Toledo, Peoria & Western road, one of the leased lines recently dropped by the Wabash people. This road is 232 miles long, running from Logansport to Peoria, then on to Burlington, Ia. The road passes through the best grain-growing and stock-raising country in the West, and would give the Pennsylvania people the shortest route from Burlington and Peoria to the seaboard. The property is really worth more to the Pennsylvania road than to any other system of roads.

The bond holders of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road, now a division of the Wabash, are taking steps to get possession of the property, and having already secured, practically, possession of the portion of the old line, lying between Peru and Laporte, they are turning their attention to that portion of the road lying between Peru and Indianapolis, the bondholders having appointed a committee to at once take action in the matter.

The Huntington News has this gossip: "Dr. Young, of Fort Wayne, came to this city last evening to accompany his wife home, who has been visiting here and at Wabash for some time.—It was the good pleasure of the publisher of this paper to hear a good sermon preached yesterday in Bloomington, Fort Wayne, by Rev. C. H. Murray, formerly of this place."

A hard gang of thieves follow the circus, and at Huntington they fleeced everybody. Captain Diehl and Marshal Meyer had their men out all day and no robberies were reported to them.
